

Community Autism Awareness

Pacific University
Saturday, April 25, 2009

Mini Conference

Berglund Hall

Sessions from 1:00 to 5:00 pm

Registration Fee $20

Limited scholarships available

Offerings include topics on emotional regulation, visual strategies, sensory aspects of feeding, sensory processing, parent perspectives, peer panel, etc.

Community Lecture

Featuring Author Paul Collins

Paul Collins is an Assistant Professor of English at Portland State University. His six books have been translated into ten languages, and include Not Even Wrong: A Father's Journey Into the Lost History of Autism, and the upcoming travelogue The Book of William: How Shakespeare's First Folio Conquered the World. In addition to writing for the New York Times, New Scientist, and Slate, he also edits the Collins Library imprint of McSweeney's Books, and appears regularly on NPR's Weekend Edition as their resident "literary detective."

Taylor-Meade Performing Arts Center

5:00 to 6:00 pm

Admission for Community Lecture is FREE with Unreserved Seating

For more information contact: Christine Macfarlane (503-352-1440) or macfarlane@pacificu.edu